

Local APCD station measures, predicts smog

What makes Upland so smoggy?

On June 6, 1973, the San Bernardino County Air Pollution Control District (SBAPCD) recorded its highest reading of ozone in the atmosphere: .66 parts per million parts of air.

That reading was taken in the county's Upland station, located in a small room on the second story of Upland's recreation building near the civic center. According to a recent report, Upland was the smog capital of the county last year, having more than 100 smog alert hours of Riverside, second smoggiest city.

The county says there are too many factors for it to predict another smog alert and burning of the right type of weather, it is open.

At the beginning of June, according to the station technician George Betzler, it looked like it would be a good summer. But during the month, smog levels increased "drastically," he said.

Weather conditions which will tend to decrease the smog levels in Upland include strong Santa Ana winds, rain, and very intense sunlight.

Conditions that would intensify the smog in Upland include on-shore winds blowing Los Angeles generated pollution to the valley, trapping the smog against the mountains; and sunlight not quite intense enough to break through the inversion layer of air over Upland.

No matter how intense the smog gets, there's a way to beat it, according to Betzler, stay indoors.

Ozone, the gas that burns eyes and lungs, is created in the atmosphere by a chemical reaction generated by strong sunlight.

The sun creates oxygen molecules with three atoms of oxygen in it from the oxygen we breathe every day, a molecule with two atoms of oxygen.

Ozone is created in the atmosphere when sunlight hits oxygen molecules. By staying indoors, preferably in an air conditioned room, you breathe oxygen in its normal, unexcited state. Once out of the direct rays of the sun, ozone deteriorates to breathable oxygen, according to Betzler.

Betzler watches and services the air pollution measuring instruments in the SBAPCD's Upland and Chino stations, two of 10 in the county. Others are in San Bernardino, Redlands, Big Bear, Lake Gregory, Twenty-nine Palms, Victorville, Barstow, and Needles.

He makes sure all the instruments in both stations are working correctly. He also refills chemical tanks used by certain measuring instruments.

Betzler also prepares a taped forecast weekdays local residents can hear by calling 985-1693. Forecasts are updated mornings at 10 a.m. and provide weekday and weekend forecasts of smog levels.

When smog levels reach a third stage alert level, 60 ppm, the SBAPCD informs the county board of supervisors who, in turn, decide whether to close down schools, shopping centers and factories and curtail automobile driving in the county.

In a first stage smog alert, 20 ppm, residents are warned. In a second stage alert, 40 ppm, schools and recreation departments as well as factories are asked to curtail unnecessary physical activities as much as possible.

SBAPCD's central office in San Bernardino receives a continuous flow of information from the county's ten stations of levels of nitrogen dioxide, oxides of nitrogen, carbon monoxide and ozone in the air to make "episode forecasts" (smog forecasts).

According to Betzler, instruments at each station are frequently tested and calibrated by the State of California Air Resources Board to insure accuracy.

He said the chief function of the SBAPCD is to monitor the air and inform the people of any dangerous conditions. He said that the County of San Bernardino probably has the biggest obligation to monitor the air, and to keep ahead of other counties in this area, because the county has the worst smog problem in the state.

The APCD, besides just monitoring the air, can also investigate and cite polluters of the air, he said. Any excess smoke, dust or bad smells can be reported to the central office by calling 383-1661.

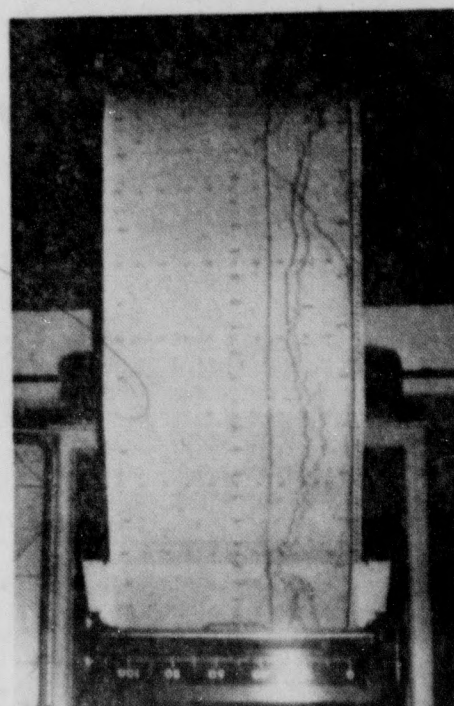

Betzler said the APCD also provides information to individuals and groups explaining how testing instruments work and describing the smog problem. Anyone interested in touring the Upland stations can call him at 985-1236.

In comparison to surrounding cities, Upland, in terms of intensity of ozone, was followed by Fontana, Redlands and San Bernardino, in that order.

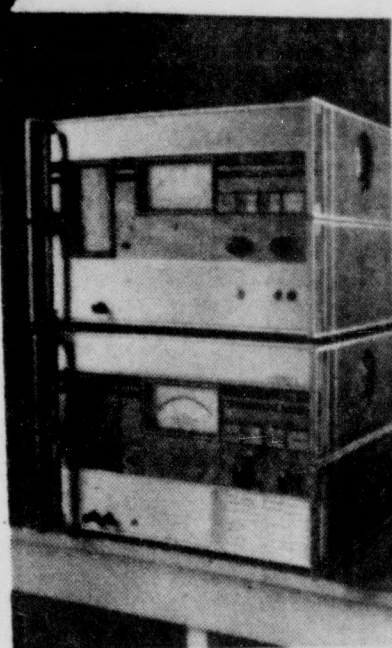

The smog season lasts from April to September.

Comparable ozone levels for the cities of Upland and San Bernardino during the last two smog seasons are:

RECORDER — The recorder at the county air pollution station in Upland records, on graph paper, smog readings for, from left: ozone, Upland's biggest air pollution problem; oxides of nitrogen; nitrogen dioxide; and carbon monoxide.

OZONE METER — The ozone meter at San Bernardino County's air pollution testing station in Upland electrically measures the ozone content in the air and relays the information to another instrument which records it on a graph. The machine at top is being calibrated for a new station.

Presbyterians start shelter care home

Representatives of the First Presbyterian Church of Upland have announced that "The Inn," a shelter care home for temporary placement of children from birth to 18 years old, will open in early July under the church's sponsorship.

One year ago the church session members, while on retreat, heard of the need for creating a shelter care home for the temporary and emergency care of children awaiting more permanent placement in a foster or group home, or, perhaps, even a return to their own homes.

The problem of what to do with a non-delinquent child whose parents (or parent) are ill; have been arrested; or who has beaten them, is one that confronts West End Juvenile officials frequently. At the present time the only place for them is in the dependency unit of juvenile hall in San Bernardino. Approximately 50 children per month spend anywhere from five days to three weeks in this facility while arrangements for their futures are being determined. Their emotional stress is only heightened by transfer to an institution - a close family unit would be much less frightening to a child who is confused and alone.

The church approved the project in May, 1973 and a task force was organized with Esther Brewster as chairperson. Also serving on the committee have been Judy Bretler, Barbara Gillydy, Brian Hutton, Pam Lacey, Linda Post, Dorothy Priest, David Roberts, Winifred Roberts, Jay Vickers, Cheryl Vickers, Dr. Tada Sato, Jane Sato, Winifred Scott, Frieda Simpson, Carol Smith and Martha Smith.

"The Inn" was named with reference to New Testament Inns (Luke 2:7; 10:34; 22:12). The house was purchased last November through memorial gifts in memory of Gary Thrall, Allan Barr and Lela McClelland and benevolence money has been budgeted in 1974 for its operation.

This is the first time that a shelter care home has been established by an organization such as the church. There have been private homes in the past in the West End but currently there are no home facilities available to the local juvenile authorities.

Members of the San Bernardino County Welfare Department, the Ontario Police Department, and the local, Ontario, Welfare Department have all given advice, suggestions and help in the establishment of this Inn. To quote Katie Zbinden of the Ontario Police Department, Juvenile Division: "The need is there, and the reward is indescribable."

Alta Loma fires set by locomotive

Four spot fires, started by a wood burning locomotive, were put out Friday by the Alta Loma Fire Department, according to Chief Eugene Billings.

The largest of the grass fires was about 15 feet on each side, said Billings.

The engine was being used in the filming of nine 90 minute documentary films on the life of Abraham Lincoln by Wolper Productions, Billings said.

According to Billings, it is standard procedure for a studio to request standby fire protection when filming such sequences.

He said two off duty men and an engine were assigned and easily handled the small grass fires before they could spread.

Filming took place Friday from noon to 11:30 p.m. at the Santa Fe spur, near Opici Winery.

Go easy on your air conditioning.

And make it easier on your pocketbook.

This summer your air conditioner could use more electricity than any other appliance in your home. It can eat into your budget, too. Especially now, since the rising cost of low-sulphur foreign oil has caused your electric bill to go up.

The cost of foreign oil is an expense we can't control. But you can control your air conditioning. Besides saving money, you will be conserving energy. That's very important during hot summer months when the demand for electricity is at a peak. The California Public Utilities Commission has recommended temperatures should not be reduced below 78 degrees.

How much can you save? During the hot summer months you can cut air conditioning costs about 30% by keeping your room temperature at 78 degrees instead of 70 degrees.

You can also save electricity—and money—by keeping your air conditioning equipment in good operating shape. Clean the filters often and replace them when necessary.

Proper insulation can make a very big difference. If your home is not adequately insulated, you are using considerably more electricity than necessary to cool your home. In fact, it may cost you less in the long run to insulate your home now instead of paying for wasted electricity from now on. For information, see your local insulation contractor.

This summer, make every kilowatt count. Keep cool, but conserve, too. Makes sense, doesn't it?

In Alta Loma area

Bids open on firehouse

The Alta Loma Fire Protection District will be accepting bids for the building of Fire Station No. 1 beginning July 2.

The proposed fire station was the topic of some heated disagreement in January, primarily over its location.

In January, the Cucamonga Fire Protection District claimed the station, to be built at the corner of 19th and Amethyst streets, was too close to its own station.

A letter was sent to the Alta Loma Fire Protection District threatening that Cucamonga would withdraw from the then proposed consolidation of the fire districts unless the new fire station site could be examined by the Foothill Fire District.

"I believe the dispute has been resolved," said Ben Mackall, Cucamonga fire chief. "I don't believe the Cucamonga district has any comment to make on it pro or con."

Mackall said the new location places the Cucamonga and Alta Loma stations farther apart than they are now. "There is no doubt the present stations are too close," he said.

Voters in the unincorporated communities of Cucamonga, Alta Loma and Etiwanda voted June 4 to establish a Foothill Fire Protection District, uniting existing fire protection districts under one board. Although the measure passed, it has not yet gone into effect.

Alta Loma, however, has never really stopped in its plans for the new fire station, which is being built on the same corner as proposed.

"There is still a need for a fire station in this area," said Alta Loma Fire Chief Eugene Billings.

Preparation of the site for the new station, he said, should be complete in 15-20 days and is 60 per cent paid for.

The people in Alta Loma, he continued, voted a new tax to help pay for the station, the Alta Loma District ran some studies, and sees no need to change its plans.

The work has been held up this long, he claims because of "political drawbacks."

In January, Alta Loma stated its support of the Gage-Babcock report, prepared in July, 1972, as a guideline for fire protection.

When analyzed under the Gage-Babcock report, said Billings, "The station's location is not out of line at all."

"It is not another station," said Billings. Instead, the new building is a relocation of the present fire station.

Billings said the lease on the old station expires June 30 but that the district has arranged to stay there on a "month to month basis" until the new structure is complete.

The new station, said Billings, will have sleeping quarters and will render facilities for 24 hour protection. He noted that 24 hour protection won't necessarily be offered immediately because of the cost of keeping men on duty at all times.

The original plans, according to Billings, called for a 12-man capability but the district settled for a smaller, less expensive 8-man station.

"We had to come up with something that would be usable and still stay within the budget," said Billings. He blamed the change in plans on delays and rising costs. He said the district is shooting for a cost not exceeding $200,000 for the new station.

Chief Billings said the Alta Loma district expects the new station to be completed by January, 1975. Although the schedule allows for further drawbacks, the firechief is hopeful for an earlier completion date.

The Horsewoman badge is the goal set for 39 Cadette Girl Scouts who are attending Corral Camp, sponsored by Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council, at the Les Jones Stables in Diamond Bar.

"The purpose of the camp is to instruct the seventh through ninth grade girls in horseback riding, and also to teach them how to care for a horse property," according to Mrs. Richard Simkins, director, from Hacienda Heights. Susan Pusey of Cucamonga is program aide. Local scouts who are participating in the "horsey" camp activities include: Linda Grzeskiewicz and Brenda Weiland, both of Ontario. The Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council announces the sponsorship of the Special Milk Program.

The bride is the daughter of William M. Mann of Yucaipa and Mrs. Jane Krafka of La Verne. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Mort of Pomona.

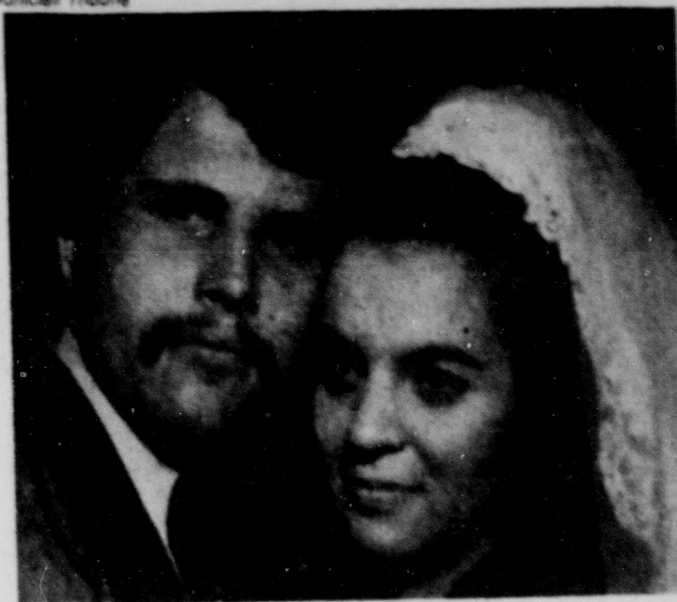

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau de soie and chantilly lace fashioned with crystal pleated ruffles at the neckline and cuffs. The skirt flowed to a chapel train. A cap of lace and pearls held the bride's fingertip-length veil.

A nosegay of white roses, daisies and stephanotis was carried by the bride.

Mrs. Harold Lloyd Jr. of Pomona was matron of honor. The bridesmaid was Mrs. Richard Mann of Yucaipa, sister-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Kathy Mizysak handled the guest book.

Four Leos in new pro crop

Merenda joins Alonso

LA VERNE — Four La Verne College baseball players have graduated into professional baseball.

Coach Ben Hines, who guided the Leopards to a third place finish at the NAIA national tournament in St. Joseph, Mo., reported the signings of pitcher Robb Mayhew and designated hitter Mike Alonso with the Minnesota Twins; and pitcher John Verhoeven and third-baseman Hank Merenda with the California Angels.

Mayhew, a lefthander who compiled a 9-4 season with a 3.07 earned run average, was drafted on the 17th round by the Twins. The United States International University transfer will be reporting to Lynchburg, Va., in the Class A Carolina League.

Alonso, who is a Chaffey High School product, was drafted by Minnesota on the 36th round. He will be reporting to Elizabethson, Tenn., in the Appalachian League after leading the Leos with a .408 batting average, 15 home runs and 57 runs batted in.

Verhoeven, a righthander, compiled a 14-1 record in helping lead La Verne to SCIAC, NAIA District Three and Area One championships, while third-baseman Merenda, a product of Montclair High School and Chaffey College, hit .342 with eight home runs and 31 runs batted in.

Verhoeven will be reporting to Davenport, Iowa, in the Midwest League, while Merenda will be playing for his college coach, Hines, at Odgen, Utah in the Pioneer League.

La Verne College has sent 21 players into professional baseball in the past five years.

Alonso is now in spring training at the Twins' camp in Sarasota, Fla., with the league season due to open late this week.

After winning All-CIF honors for Coach Jim Semon at Chaffey, he lettered two years under Coach Howard Lowder at Chaffey College.

Although used as a designated hitter for the most part during his senior season at La Verne, Alonso as a background as a pitcher in Ontario youth baseball ranks and played both right field and first baseman for the two Chaffey schools.

College stage band clinic

Chaffey College will offer its Summer Stage Band Clinic on an 8:30 a.m.-to-4 p.m. schedule during the week of Aug. 26-30.

Eligible to participate in the tuition-free sessions are high school students as well as college students and interested adults. The sessions will be in the little theater building.

The mornings will be devoted to full-band rehearsals; the afternoons, to sessions in performance, writing and improvisation. Lunch breaks will be at noon.

High school directors are invited to send their stage bands for regular instruction until 3 p.m. followed by an hour of rehearsal on a rotational basis under clinic staff. Directors will be encouraged to choose their own charts.

The clinic, now in its second year, will be coordinated by Jack Mason, instrumental music director here and founder of the Chaffey College Band Festival.

Mason reported that the program will also feature four two-hour sessions keyed to the trumpet, the trombone, the saxophone and the rhythm instruments.

Four guest staffers have been lined up so far, three from this state and one from Arizona.

The Californians are Larry Sutherland, Cal State University (Fresno) band director; Jerrold Moore, College of the Redwoods instrumental music director, and Roger Rickson, Corona High School band director.

CAMP — Posing on their horses at Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council's Corral Camp, are Terry Ogle of Claremont and Debbie Sogn of La Verne. The camp is currently in session in Diamond Bar, and these girls are beginning their equestrian training with a short jog around the ring at the Les Jones Stables.

New mobile home law explained

A new law toughening mobile home set-up standards will go into effect July 1.

Mobile home dealers and mobile home set-up contractors in San Bernardino County were informed of the details of the new law by officials of the state Division of Housing Tuesday in San Bernardino and Ontario.

The new state law will require that new mobile homes being set-up or older mobile homes being moved be inspected by local building inspectors.

The law also will require dealers and set-up contractors to place broader footings underneath mobile homes and mandates that they follow manufacturer's specifications in setting up mobile homes if they are to obtain permits from city building departments.

A seminar on the new mobile home law was conducted in San Bernardino and a demonstration of approved mobile homes set-up techniques was held at Harris Mobile Homes in Montclair.

About 150 persons, including city building inspectors, attended the seminar and demonstration, which were conducted by Paul Solomon, the chief of compliance for the state Division of Housing.

State pays county for tax losses

San Bernardino County is receiving $242,235.38 as reimbursement for tax income losses attributable to late filing of Homeowner's Property Tax Exemption claims for 1973-74, according to Houston I. Flournoy, state controller.

"These payments result from a change in law this year which permits those homeowners who missed the exemption deadline to file a late claim for 80 percent of the exemption," said Flournoy.

Los Angeles County received $3,167,100 in funds, with 54 counties in the state receiving money.

The Silver Cannon Balls of Panamint

Panamint's glory days rose and fell in the short span of three years. They were heralded in when three prospectors struck silver in the Panamint Range along the western wall of Death Valley. Rock samples assayed at up to $3000 a ton! However, it was the spring of '74, a full year later, before the first Panaminters talked the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce into raising capital and building a wagon road into the valley.

Nevada Senator William M. Stewart, the leading lawyer on the Comstock and, literally, father of our 36th state, provided the capital along with Senator John Jones, hero of the terrible Yellow Jacket fire of 1869. By November seven stages a week were carrying the crowds into Surprise Canyon, and the Oriental Saloon on the mile-long main street was hailed as "the finest on the Coast outside of San Francisco." Soon Panamint was about as lawless as a California town could get.

John Small and John McDonald, Nevada stage robbers, swaggered into town and sold Senator Stewart a large mine. Then they hung about while his giant stamp mill was being built, inquiring pointedly when he would start shipping bullion. When the monster was finally fired up on June 29, 1875, the bad men were on hand, armed with six shooters and sheepish grins.

But Stewart wasn't a rube. Out rolled silver cannon balls weighing 500 pounds each! "Do you think it's fair to play that game on us?" Small demanded with injured pride. "Why, we can't haul away one of those boulders!"

The hard-hearted senator watched while the robbers tried to heave a silver ball on a pack mule's back. But the animal bucked furiously until the pair gave up. For months they suffered the agony of watching the silver balls leave Panamint regularly by mule team, across 200 miles of lonely desert under no protection but an unarmed driver. This insult was so deflating that on April 20, 1876, the disgusted twosome robbed a general store of $2300 and left town for good. Meanwhile, Jones was launching the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad, founding Santa Monica, and getting ready for war with the Southern Pacific... but those are other stories.

Think you'll find another Panamint?

Stranger things have happened. But the odds are against it. It makes a lot more sense to play it safe. That's why we're here.

We're Upland Savings, the largest California chartered savings and loan association in the Upland/Ontario area. Our assets now exceed $30,000,000. No other insured financial institution, regardless of size or location, can legally pay you higher interest on regular passbook savings or give you greater insurance protection.

Adding growth and security to your savings is only half our business, though. The other half is lending money for homes so that your community—and ours, too—continues to prosper.

We'd really enjoy showing you the benefits of the various high-interest accounts waiting for you at Upland Savings. Won't you visit us soon? There are free services and friendly people to make your savings that much nicer. Upland: it's one good habit you should hang on to.

New bank sets grand opening date July 1

Republic Federal Savings will open its Claremont Regional Office on July 1, it was announced today by Chairman of the Board, Arthur Ferris. The regional office, located at 1001 West Foothill Blvd., Claremont, is the newest of ten offices serving the Southern California community.

The office will be officially opened with a ribbon cutting ceremony on July 1 at noon, presided over by Mrs. Bertie Smith, mayor of Claremont, and supported by Mrs. Mary Lou Jacobsen, president of the Claremont Chamber of Commerce.

The July 1 through August 9 grand opening celebration will provide candy and balloons for the children, and adults will be given free copies of the color booklet "A Guide to Indoor Plant Care."

Visitors attending the debut should notice the architectural design of the new office, which features a high center rotunda roof with clerestory windows. Textured white walls, rough sawn beams and a tile roof complete the style.

Managing the new Claremont Regional Office will be Mrs. Nancy E. Tschopp. During her first 10 years with Republic, she served in several capacities in the real estate and escrow departments, as well as in a savings counselling capacity. In addition to managing the Claremont Office, she is an assistant Vice-President of Republic Federal Savings.

Aiding the efforts of Mrs. Tschopp will be Carolyn A. Greenman and Nancy K. Nickolas. Ms. Greenman, the Assistant Branch Manager, first served Republic Federal in the Pasadena Office. She will head the new accounts department of the Claremont Office.

Nancy K. Nickolas will provide additional valuable support to the staff of the Claremont Office. As a teller in the new office, she will have the opportunity to meet and give personal attention to Republic savers in the Claremont area.

Appeal filing dates set

Property owners who plan to contest the values placed on their properties by the county assessor can file an appeal beginning July 2 in all counties, except Los Angeles, State Board of Equalization Member John W. Lynch advised today.

The filing period in Los Angeles County is from July 15 until Sept. 16. For residents of Alameda, Orange, Sacramento, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties, the filing period is from July 2 to Sept. 16. In all other counties, appeals must be filed between July 2 and Aug. 26. Appeals received after the final filing dates cannot be considered.

If a property owner does not receive notice of the assessed value of his property by July 1, or shortly thereafter, he may obtain the information by visiting the assessor's or county auditor's office, where the roll is kept. Usually the assessor's office will supply the figures by phone or mail if the owner can identify his property accurately, preferably by parcel number.

A property owner can contest the assessor's full value estimate if he thinks it is excessive. Except in the case of land in the "open-space" program, "full value" means the best price a willing and knowledgeable seller could obtain for the property from a willing and knowledgeable buyer. To contest the assessor's

Intersection to get modernized traffic signals

San Bernardino County Supervisor Robert O. Townsend of the Fourth District has announced that the contract for installation of new traffic signals and lighting at the intersection of Mission Boulevard and Central Avenue in Montclair has been awarded to Steiny and Co. with a low bid of $66,477.

Townsend said the project includes installation of a modern, eight-phase traffic actuator signal which will provide a separate left turn phase for all directions and result in a significant increase in efficiency and reduction of accidents.

Construction is expected to take approximately six months and will begin as soon as the necessary electrical equipment is received.

Security tightened in hospital

SAN BERNARDINO — The county board of supervisors authorized the county hospital to declare $28,046 worth of items missing but ordered a report on measures that will be taken to tighten security.

Robert E. Russell, health care services agency director, said a new inventory system has uncovered the missing items dating back to 1930. He also noted that a rash of thefts have occurred in recent months. He said items such as typewriters and adding machines have been discovered missing.

Russell said the hospital is in the process of tightening security and changing locks to avoid the possibility of former employees still having keys to the buildings.

full value, the property owner should be prepared with information on the market values of comparable properties in the neighborhood.

Lynch advised that an appellant cannot expect relief merely because taxes generally are high or because the current higher than last year's. The current assessed value must be excessive relative to what the property was worth on March 1, 1974.

Forms on which to file appeals may be obtained from the clerk of the county board of supervisors or from the assessor's office.

County receives $438,606 in taxes

San Bernardino County has received $438,606 in the June allocation of sales and use tax money received by the State Board of Equalization, according to board member John W. Lynch.

Also receiving funds were the West End cities of Ontario, $130,254; Upland, $85,925; Montclair, $154,268; and Chino, $42,707. Statewide, more than $88.65 million has been distributed to California cities and counties in the June allocation, according to the Board of Equalization.

California cities received $56.8 million, and counties $11.4 million, for a total of $68.2 million from their one per cent share of the 6 per cent sales and use tax which retailers collect from their customers. In addition, the counties will receive $16.8 million earmarked for county transportation purposes.

San Bernardino County received $436,709 from the one-fourth per cent county local transportation fund.

The grand total of $88.6

million represents the cleanup payment for the first quarter of 1974 plus the first advance payment for the second quarter of 1974.

The total amount collected for the comparable quarter of 1973 was $66.9 million. At that time, the tax was five per cent.

Rabies clinic set in Upland

An Upland rabies and licensing clinic will be held June 27 and 28, according to Capt. T. D. Smith, of the Upland Police Department. The city sponsored yearly clinic will be held at the Upland Police Station, said Smith. The clinic will be open from 1-3 p.m. and again from 7-9 p.m. on June 27. On the second day, said Smith, the clinic will be open from 7-9 p.m. only. Capt. Smith said the clinic is for the city of Upland only, no county licenses will be issued. Vaccination is $2 per animal. Licenses are $6 for a female and $4 for a male. All altered dogs may be licensed at 1/2 the normal price.

Walnut city employees get 8.9 per cent hike in pay

WALNUT — After a closed-door personnel session, city councilmen Wednesday night granted an 8.9 per cent salary increase for all city employees.

Councilman Richard Laughter's proposal to drop the tax rate seven cents per $100 assessed valuation in next year's fiscal budget fell on deaf ears, however, as other councilmen said it would be impossible, especially after granting salary hikes.

Action on salaries came during a budget study session, in which few changes were made in the proposed $349,334 fiscal plan.

The increases for 12 full and part-time employees, costing $7,000, will be included in the final budget expected to be approved next Wednesday by the council.

Councilmen repeatedly referred to a 14 per cent salary boost granted, but City Manager Andy Lazzaretto said that would come to employees only if they received 3 per cent merit raises later in the year. "It's a complicated factor built into the salary schedule," he added, "and the raises wouldn't be for everyone."

Raises are for employees including the city manager, administrative staff, park employees and clerical help. Total cost of wages included in the budget is $64,800, compared to $57,000 last year.

The 8.9 per cent boost is a "cushion," Laughter said, keeping pace with the cost of living. Lazzaretto indicated that employees always have "lagged behind" the cost of living factor and only received a five per cent hike last year.

Councilman William Cotton was the only one voting against the increase. He said "what amounts to an equivalent 14 per cent raise is unrealistic."

In other budget matters, the council transferred $500 from the city's manager's travel expense account to the council's expense allocations. They said if part of $3,900 in Lazzaretto's account is not spent next year, it "just stays there."

Laughter indicated the manager's account was "too high."

SCATTERGUN HILL GANG — Members of the "notorious" Scattergun Hill Gang, to perform Saturday as part of Upland Town Center's "Good Old Days" celebration, include, from left: Diamond's Liz, Boots

Morgan, Candy, Rocky "Sundance" Morgan, Ruby, Singing Sandy and Dolly. The group will appear near the kiosk, downtown Upland between noon and 5 p.m. in full gunfighting gear.

FIREHOUSE — The Montclair Community Services Center is located in an old building that used to be a fire station, 10585 Central Ave., Montclair. The center provides counseling, free clinic, employment and community education services to local residents. For more information on services call 624-8056.
